

The Germantown Police Department Explorer Post is a group of young men and women ages 14 - 20 who have an interest in learning about law enforcement as a possible career. Explorers learn about the law, court procedures, police patrol techniques and organizational skills. Upon meeting requirements, Explorers are allowed to ride along with a patrol officer and respond to police calls, participate in the normal routines of Community Policing and interacting with the community. Explorers get a first hand perspective of the realities of modern day law enforcement.
